Grady-White 321 Coastal Explorer

Answering the call for a champion inshore-offshore boat.

Listening to customers' wants and needs is how every new Grady-White boat design begins, and the all-new 321 CE is no exception. Starting with Coastal Explorer owners' wish lists and conversations with dealers, the Grady-White engineering team answered the call for a larger CE model. The result is a magnificent 32-foot crossover that exceeds expectations, delivering serious fishability alongside refined comfort for cruising and sandbar days.

Anglers who want to do it all will love this versatile boat. The generous 10'6" beam on Grady's SeaV²® hull design lets you head offshore with confidence, while the 22-inch draft (motors up) and trolling-motor prep package make it equally suitable for finding the bite in the shallows. When the family is ready to head to the sandbar, the transition is seamless. Packed with luxurious features from stern to bow, this flagship model includes dual sport decks with a boarding ladder, and a console complete with a head, vanity lighting, a sink with a pull-out shower, a mirror, and ample storage. At the transom, swim platforms incorporate insulated boxes for anchor storage or coolers that are easy to access from the water.

A wide array of seating options ensures no one is left behind. Transom seating includes an aft bench that converts into a lounge, while an aft-facing mezzanine seat cleverly folds down to reveal a Corian countertop for meal or bait prep, along with lighted storage. Three Command Elite helm chairs provide premium comfort and visibility for both the captain and crew. In the bow, a large casting platform easily converts to a sun pad with infinitely adjustable electric backrests. A forward console lounge with contoured cushioning, folding armrests, and a cooler below may just be the best seat in the house.

What started as a step up in size from the 281 CE has become a trailblazing model with sleek lines and all the amenities you'd expect in a flagship Grady-White. The all-new 321 Coastal Explorer redefines coastal exploration without compromise. 🦅
